

Advanced Art

Advanced art is similar to an independent study. Students give me a plan of work and I will agree or disagree with their choices. Most have had all the different types of art or know what else they would like to explore and we go over that in the first week of class. They are expected to work both at school and at home. Sketchbooks are mandatory as they will do most of their preliminary work in them for whatever projects they wish to do.

For their final they have to tell me what they have done, how they achieved it and whether they were successful or not and the outcome of each project.
